

Han Dong 韩东

New Words, New Roads: Chinese literature in the world

– a lecture by the poet and novelist Han Dong, and panel discussion with translators of contemporary Chinese literature

28 April 2009, 5.15 – 6.30 p.m., Lecture Theatre, Hugh Robson Building (10–15, George Square, Edinburgh)

Presented by The Scottish Centre for Chinese Studies, in association with the Translation Studies Graduate Programme and The Confucius Institute for Scotland, in association with Paper Republic (www.paper-republic.org) and with the assistance of the Arts Council.

